Hi, my name is Ram Kedem. Working in the israeli data industry for more than 15 years. During these years, held many roles from DBA to BI developer, Data Analyst, and Big Data Team Leader & Architect.

I'm very passionate about teaching, and through all of my professional career, I've trained thousands of people, and served as the academic manager of two leading Israeli colleges. for me SQL is kind of a hobby :) I really love this language and think it's capabilities are amazing.

I wrote two books on SQL, which (I'm very proud to say:)) are currently being sold all across the world. You are more than welcome to checkout my website, linkedin page, or simply google my name for any further details :)

My name is Shuki Santana-Molk, I'm a data analyst applying my practical background as an experienced manager to extract actionable insights for business and data analysis.

I come from logistics background, mainly in the vehicles import and export business

During my line of work I'm using tools like SQL, Python, Advanced Excel, Power BI and occasionally, even some straightforward common sense :)
